"Red's" Beach Club in Raleigh ...

by Gene Laughter

I first met Red Hughes at S.O.S. a few years back. Nice guy. He kept asking me to bring the S.O.S. crowd to Raleigh to visit his club. I gave him lip service 'cause his club was too small. "Sure, we'll do it," I told him, "Some day."

People from Raleigh kept telling me about Red Hughes and Red's Beach Club. Recently Red opened a new, much, much larger club. Then ol' Red came up with specific dates for a Raleigh S.O.S. The ball was in my court. It was now time to fish or cut bait. It was time to go to Raleigh and see Red's Beach Club for myself. I have just returned.

Well, let me tell you ... you just wouldn't believe the place!

Red's Beach Club is situated just off the main drag of Wake Forest Road - tucked away on Industrial Drive with a gigantic parking lot that surrounds his club on three sides. It's the beach club of all beach clubs! Atmosphere with a capital "A."

The building housing Red's Beach Club was a seafood restaurant before Red took over. It still retains fantastic nautical charm ... complete with weathered cedar siding, sand, sea oats, a large deck ... and nautical antiques and bric-a-brac galore. From the moment you drive up to "Red's" you will think that you're at the beach! Inside it's h-u-g-e ... but not cold or lacking in charm for it's divided into several rooms. It will hold a couple of thousand shaggers. I knew from the moment I entered ... Red's was indeed the place for an S.O.S. special event inland migration!

Red and I went out calling on motels ... to negotiate special rates for the Raleigh Migration. We first visited Jim Boineau at the Best Western Crabtree Hotel. Jim is the former owner of Fanny's in Columbia. What hospitality! Now these folks know how to operate an accommodations business! Jim not only offered us favorable rates ($37.95 a night ... not per person, but for the room!), but we also arranged for free cocktail parties for their S.O.S. guests, free continental breakfasts ... and also free shuttle service back and forth to Red's to boot! I decided then and there, on the spot, that the Best Western is where I'll stay!

So, fellow S.O.S.ers, you've asked for it for years. Here it is. A special inland party! The tab? Ten bucks for '87 S.O.S. members (bring your card!) and $20 for non-S.O.S.ers. ... and like all S.O.S. functions ... worth every penny of it, and more. See you at Red's!
